Widely regarded as one of the pioneers of independent children's music, Dana has been writing and recording music for children and entertaining families across America for more than 30 years. CHILD magazine called her energy and enthusiasm "contagious" and named her as one of the "Top Five Kids' Singers You Should Know." Dana's eight albums and single releases have earned 45 national awards and wide critical acclaim. She has engaged thousands of young audiences with her live performances, music videos and Dana's Music Playground video series, which streams on her YouTube channel and the family streaming platform, Sensical. Dana hosts her own award-winning radio show/podcast on children's radio stations JUMP 105.3 and KIDS.RADIO. For 11 years, she served as a storyteller for her county library system, and since 2014, Dana has been teaching her popular "Music Playground" music and movement classes for little ones in Bellingham, Washington, near her home. Since embarking on her career in the children's genre, Dana's goal has always been to subtly educate kids and entertain them with her music while introducing them to numerous genres. She and her husband, Jason are proud parents to their 23-year-old son, Jack.
